

Built Setting

TIIN Community Components

- Independent Housing for Older People (55+, 8-12 units)
- Licensed Adult Family Home (4 frail seniors and 6-8 live in staff & family)
- Affordable young family rental (4 units)
- Connected Community & Support Services for intergenerational engagement
- Accessible green space for gardens & recreation

The Program

Intentionally Intergenerational
Financially Diverse & Inclusive

Culturally relevant BOD & programs

Individualized goals & approaches

Family & life skills coaching

Onsite child and adult day care

Onsite after school program

On-site employment

Weekly Investment of time coordinated via an internal

Time Bank

Community roles give purpose & belonging

Empowered neighbors help while being helped

A welcoming sense of belonging to a Family of Friends

Flourishing Generations

Therapeutic Interactive Intergenerational Neighborhood

TIIN

A pioneering approach where aging adults and young families flourish together.

Purpose and Belonging

THERAPEUTIC: The detrimental effects of loneliness and isolation are replaced with purpose and belonging in the staffed intentional neighborhood. Hopelessness is replaced with goal directed living. Stress and trauma are alleviated with social support and trauma informed care, which have been scientifically shown to improve both physical and mental health.

INTERACTIVE: A unique combination of housing, services and programs bring people of diverse ages, culture and financial background together with intention. Intergenerational volunteers from the greater community add richness to the life of the TIIN and the greater community. Interactive classes for people interested in TIIN living set the stage. Together staff and participants explore diversity awareness and inclusion, goal directed living, the sharing of gifts and talents as well as requesting and offering help and support where needed.

INTERGENERATIONAL: TIIN Programs are built around the notion that older adults and young families have the potential to help each other flourish. Older Adults bring a lifetime of wisdom and the young bring energy and the joy of learning. Life is enriched with meaningful intergenerational relationships. And Generations of Purpose are the result!

NEIGHBORHOOD: Independent Housing for Older Adults and young families is connected to shared indoor community spaces and surrounded by shared green space. The neighborhood nurse & some support staff reside in the neighborhood Adult Family Home. Life is genuinely shared by a welcoming extended family of friends.

Q&A

What is the screening process for entrance?

- Family referral process
  1. All interested adults will attend 5, three hour classes
How The TIIN work
  2. Diversity Awareness,
  3. Communication & Conflict Resolution in a diverse environment
  4. Finances
  5. Writing My Mission Statement
- The mission statement becomes the goal directed program outline.
- Volunteer 6 hours
- Lease process.
- Interview with staff

What are the projected outcomes?

- Residents report a sense of purpose & belonging
- Lower health care costs than lonelier older adults
- Young Families develop new resources and skills
- Children enjoy learning
- Families move forward
- Section 8 vouchers are used